For airport damages

Attorney urges residents to sue

By JIM CARAVALLAH
Of The Roman Staff

The attorney who has won a permanent injunction against expansion of Detroit Metropolitan Airport in Romulus has detailed the possibilities of obtaining damages from the Wayne County Road Commission for inconveniences to residents and loss of tax base to the city caused by the airport.

Jerrold Fadem said that residents in the city could win damages for their inability to sell homes and land in the city because of new federal loan regulations on noise standards for insuring mortgages in flight patterns for airports.

At a meeting attended by an estimated 350 persons from the community, Fadem said that damages of between $1,800 and $9,500 per home were won by residents in the path of a runway in the Los Angeles Airport on similar grounds.

Earlier in the day, Fadem had told officials of the Romulus School District and Romulus city government that it would cost $200 each for some 500 families to press suit against the airport.

Costs would be to detail damages caused to land and building values by a loss of federally insured mortgage and noise damage to structures, according to the attorney.

Fadem also suggested that city and school officials could pursue a fight in the courts for loss of tax base and building damage for schools in the path of runways.

As many as nine schools in the Romulus School District may be eligible for funds either to reconstruct the buildings or make them soundproof to ward off the effects of aircraft overflights on the learning process.

Fadem had estimated for school officials that it would cost between $8 and $10 per square foot to soundproof school buildings enough to make them educationally sound against aircraft noise.

In addition, Fadem told city officials they could sue for as much as $8.5 million in damages caused by the loss of tax base, the absorption of the water and sewer system for land and loss of roads without compensation by the airport expansion.

Mayor Terry L. Troutt estimated that the city could pursue its own law suit within six weeks, if approved by the council.

He also urged citizens to get involved in the damage law suit to compensate them for loss of value.

However, the citizens' law suit would have to be a class-action venture, without aid of city tax funds.

The original suit against Detroit Metropolitan Airport to stop construction of a third runway was financed with the cooperation of the Romulus city and school governments.

Harvest home

Crates of apples lie under a heavily-laden tree on this area farm. Similar places in the Belleville-Romulus area are bearing the fruit of late spring and early summer sweat and toil with the coming harvest season. Despite some late summer dry conditions and early cooling, area farm experts are predicting improved harvests over last year's production in the area. The Romulus Roman Chief Photographer Lothar E. Konietzko captured this scene while wandering through the farmland of Van Buren Township and Romulus recently.

Airport runway plan dies in District Court

The plan to construct a new runway in Detroit Metropolitan Airport in Romulus is dead in the opinion of the U.S. District Court.

Judge Cornelia J. Kennedy has issued a permanent injunction against construction of a new northeast-to-southwest runway at a cost of $30 million because of the Wayne County Road Commission's and the Federal Aviation Administration's (FAA) noncompliance with a federal environmental impact law.

According to Jerrold Fadem, the city's attorney in the suit, Judge Kennedy ruled that a valid environmental impact statement must be filed under federal regulations before any new runway can be constructed.

In addition, the judge ruled that the county agency and the FAA must comply with other federal laws requiring an impact statement to be filed on an overall master plan for the airport.

The ruling apparently bolsters the city's attempt not only to check the growth of the airport, but also to obtain a chart of potential use of the airport to help spur community development.

"People living on the outskirts of the airport and landowners in the same situation are unsure of what to do with their property, because of the past unchecked growth of the facility," Mayor Terry L. Troutt said. "If a master plan which meets environmental impact requirements is filed, it will mean that the Road Commission is locked into a plan which will allow others to predetermine their own courses of action."

"It could lead to booming development areas directly adjacent to the airport."

Troutt said that he will be recommending to the Romulus City Council a law suit against the Road Commission to require a plan. A similar law suit in San Francisco was successfully pressed by Fadem.

Troutt, Stewart finish neck and neck Duo face off for general election

JAMES STEWART

...we plan to continue working...

It will be a horserace for mayor in Romulus Nov. 4, after the incumbent mayor and his major challenger finished neck and neck in the primary election.

Incumbent Mayor Terry L. Troutt tallied 1,425 votes to challenger James C. Stewart's 1,414 in the mayoral balloting yesterday.

Of the 3,631 votes cast for mayoral candidates, the incumbent received 39.2 percent and the challenger 38.9 percent.

Also running for mayor, Clayton W. Meldrum received 19.6 percent of the votes for a total of 713, with Glenn Free receiving 79 votes.

In the council balloting, Mayor

Pro Tem Beverly McAnally led all candidates with 1,638 votes — some 200 more than the incumbent mayor received.

Council candidates making the Nov. 4 ballot besides Mrs. McAnally are in the order of their finish Jimmie C. Raspberry, Gervazio Canejo, William M. Oakley, Fred Junior Block, Lngg Coleman in a tie with Joseph R. Kochanoski, Joan A. Lee, Robert H. Martin, Charlie Harris, Jack Trumble, Jon W. Madish, Jeffery Dahlstrom and Oliver Warren.

Eliminated from contention were Robert Abbey, Charles R. Dick Jr. and Kenneth R. Howington.

Vote totals for council candidates are: Raspberry — 1,415; Canejo — 1,405; Oakley — 1,381; Block — 1,339; Coleman and Kochanoski — 1,293; Mrs. Lee — 1,271; Martin — 1,244; Harris — 1,139; Trumble — 1,109; Madish — 978; Dahlstrom — 891 and Warren — 875.

Abbey had 834 votes, Howington had 815 and Dick had 707.

Totals are unofficial until certified by the Romulus Election Commission.

Troutt indicated he was disappointed with his finish, stating: "The group is going to get together to discuss what we may have done wrong."

"We pulled the high vote, but we'll have to pull ourselves together to be successful in November."

Stewart said he was happy with his vote.

"The people have shown they are ready for a change," he added. "It looks like we're on the right track and we plan to continue working even harder to gain a victory in November."

The candidate's workers had passed out literature at the polls recommending votes for seven non-incumbents called "the people's choice."

Included in the list were Abbey, Dahlstrom, Harris, Howington, Kochanoski, Raspberry and Warren.

In a news release early yesterday afternoon, Stewart, in part, said: "My intention is to continue the mayoral race as an independent supporting the independent candidates that are the people's choice for council. I always will believe we must do away with teams, groups or slates to have a constructive form of government."

The so-called Troutt Team of Coleman, Lee, McAnally, Madish and Trumble also made it through the primary.

TERRY L. TROUTT

...we'll have to pull together...

All incumbents likewise will face the election test in November.

Also appearing on the Nov. 4 ballot will be the two treasurer candidates, John Lewkowicz, the incumbent, and Franklin Ayers Sr., his challenger.

A tribute to the people

Romulus City Clerk Leonard Folmar (standing) introduced area Department of Housing and Urban Development (HUD) director Elmer C. Binford (right) to a gathering of Romulus officials during a dinner last week. In his introduction, Folmar reminded the HUD administrator that Romulus residents were "concerned with moving this city forward" when they undertook the city's first urban renewal project and said that to continue the progress Romulus needs some "unique federal help" to make the city "an exemplary community." — The Romulus Roman photo.

Accomplishments paraded

Romulus' past accomplishments with the federal government's aid, and its future hopes for federal aid were paraded before the Detroit area director of the Federal Department of Housing and Urban Development (HUD).

Elmer C. Binford, area HUD director, was taken on a tour of the Romulus urban renewal area at Beverly and Wayne roads and on a tour of the Meadows Subdivision at Harrison and Eureka roads in a presentation of city pride Friday.

The tours marked Binford's visit to Romulus at the completion of the urban renewal project.

The HUD director brought to the city President Gerald R. Ford's congratulations on completing the project.

In a letter written to the city officials, the President said: "I am pleased and delighted your city has completed its own development plan and urge you to invest your own citizens to continue it."

City Clerk Leonard Folmar, in introducing the guest to a luncheon held in Romulus, said: "We have dedicated ourselves to the improvement of our community, as shown by the recently completed project, and hope to show HUD some of the plans we have for our newer communities."

"We believe Romulus has been an exemplary community with a unique attitude and believe the federal government should uniquely help us to continue."

Binford's tour of the Meadows Subdivision, the site of more than 40 abandoned homes owned by HUD, was designed to get his favorable opinion on awarding a grant to the community to promote a homesteading program to help get the homes into private ownership.

Although the area director will not have power to give the grant to the city — an estimated $500,000 — "his word couldn't help us in a tight situation" according to Mayor Terry L. Troutt.

In addition to city officials attending the meeting with Binford, representatives of the Wayne-Beverly Citizens District Council—chairman Dorothy Phenix, Thomas Coleman, Ernest U. Davis and Zephie Beaneum — attended the dinner.

Folmar credited the citizens in attendance with "concerning themselves with moving Romulus forward who have served the city well over the years."

Vets can get 'sheep skins'

The Huron School District is offering a new educational program for Veterans to help them complete high school and obtain their diplomas.

Veterans who have had two years of active duty on or after Jan. 31, 1955, can enroll in credit courses toward obtaining a high school diploma and receive a monthly check from the federal government while a part of the Huron Adult Education Program, under the GI Bill.

The Veterans Administration (VA) program at the high school level, which was approved by the Michigan Department of Education, has been available for several years. Some school districts have begun to incorporate the program as a service to area veterans, according to Chris Fields, director of the Huron Adult Education Program.

Any veteran who wishes to complete his high school education, or learn a new job skill, will receive the VA benefits. The amount of money received is dependent upon the marital status and number of dependents of the veteran.

High School credits are given for military service and any course work completed through the service, such as correspondence courses.

For registration in the adult education program, contact Huron High School at 782-1505.

Power squad hosts boating safety course

The Ann Arbor Power Squadron will be offering a free course in boating safety and small boat handling, beginning next Wednesday at Pior High School in Ann Arbor. Registration for the classes will be at 7:30 p.m. in the west cafeteria, the site of the course instruction.

The course runs for 10 weeks, two hours per week every Wednesday. A final examination will be presented at the end of the course.

The U.S. Power squadrons are open to both men and women 16 years of age and older. Ownership of a boat is not a requirement for membership.

For further information on the course, contact Mel Dabich at 668-8677, or the course chairman at 800-243-6000.

Nature walks are available

Western Wayne County families and individuals are invited to attend a naturalist-guided walk through the new Oakwoods Nature Center near Flat Rock.

The walks will be conducted Sunday, Sept. 14 and Sept. 28.

Autumn field flowers, migration and other seasonal topics will be emphasized during the 1- to 2-hour walks.

For more information on the walks, contact the Oakwoods Nature Center at 782-1255. Participants in the walks should dress for the weather and bring along insect repellent, a spokesman said.

ANALYSIS: Indication is there'll be no strike

By JIM CARAVALLAH
Of the Roman Staff

If the tenor of news coming from the negotiations between the Romulus Board of Education and the Romulus Education Association is any true indication, residents of the community shouldn't worry about the possibility of a strike, even though those negotiations continue past the expiration of the existing teacher pact.

Spokespersons for both the Romulus board and the teacher's union have made efforts toward being conciliatory to each other in the negotiation news released to the media.

James Garfield, the superintendent of schools in Romulus, declined comment last week when asked about the dollar amounts separating both sides in the negotiation of a new pact.

"I don't think that's important, since different figures are used by each side," Garfield said. "Let's just say that the difference is substantial. I think both the teachers and the board would agree with that statement."

Translated, Garfield's statement means that the board negotiators don't want to enter a traditional agreement with teacher union negotiators over the matter of increments in the existing pact.

Under traditional teacher contract language negotiated by the Michigan Education Association, increments are paid teachers for each year worked in a district.

For instance, a teacher will receive an automatic raise after teaching another year in a district. Other pacts provide for a general 3 percent increment increase in each of 10 "steps" or years of teaching, meaning a teacher with 10 years of experience "automatically" is paid 30 percent more than the starting wage.

Added to the increment is the "new" wage requests by unions. Teacher unions refuse to discuss increments as "new" money, claiming that boards of education can include that money as fixed costs, since the increase already is negotiated.

But boards of education have refused to ignore the automatic increase when discussing economics of contracts, since it still adds 3 percent to the cost of any past wages paid by the district.

By neglecting to point out the cost of the wage package, Garfield avoided one public argument which usually comes out of bitter teacher contract negotiations, a sign that he wishes to avoid upsetting the other side when there is a good chance for settlement.

Added to Garfield's posture are private statements by teachers that they believe the contract can be settled without a strike, and in fact hope it is settled without a strike.

Again, they are trying to impress upon the media that they aren't ready to "rattle sabers" and talk strikes to upset the board negotiators.

Still the differences between the sides, even though not detailed to avoid outside arguments, are very real, and must be dealt with.

But the attitudes of both negotiation teams seems to indicate they are willing to wait until outside help can offer a means to settlement without stopping classes in the district.

GREETINGS FROM MR. FORD—Elmer C. Binford (left), area director of the Department of Housing and Urban Development presents Romulus Mayor Terry L. Troutt a letter from President Gerald R. Ford congratulating the city on the successful completion of Romulus' Wayne-Beverly Urban Renewal Project. Troutt used the opportunity to take Binford on a tour of the city's Meadows Subdivision in a effort to lobby for federal funds to correct an abandoned housing problem in the subdivision. — The Romulus Roman photo.

He backs 'share cost'

The outgoing mayor of Belleville said his city's share of the costs for constructing a new 34th District Court "are not too bad," if the costs are based on court use figures as planned.

Ellis Amerman, who will be leaving office this November, after 21 years on the Belleville City Council, said the problem with solving the dilemma of financing construction of a new District Court is a lack of a "positive plan township boards and city councils can react to."

"The whole thing has been discussion and speculation for the most part," Amerman added. "We need something put on paper so we can get a feeling of our respective boards."

Leaders in other communities involved in the District Court search privately have said they expect Belleville to balk at paying the costs of a new court building, based on the amount of use each community makes of the facility. The city has a larger share of the use than communities as much as 10 times as large by population.

Under discussion is a plan to give Belleville 12 percent of the costs of financing a new court building — a figure comparable to Huron and Sumpter townships' share of the use of the court, even though Huron has four times the population and Sumpter three times the population of Belleville.

Amerman had been lobbying for a plan which would see member communities of the 34th District — Romulus, Van Buren Township, Belleville, Huron and Sumpter — paying for the cost of a new court facility, based on each community's state equalized value. That proposal would give Belleville a 3 percent share of the costs.

But the mayor earlier this week said the city "won't be fighting on that basis," if the court plans call for communities to pay for new construction based on use.

"The city's main concern is that the court is as centrally-located as possible," Amerman added. "Some talk has been that the new building will be constructed on East Huron River Drive near Haggerty Road."

"That's good for Belleville and a lot better than the present site in Romulus, or a site in Huron Township."

Communities involved in the court use have been asked to find a different means to operate the court and finance new construction by the district's two judges because of cramped space and the impending destruction of the existing facility on Eureka Road by possible expansion in Detroit Metropolitan Airport just to the north of the court site.

Judge dismissed lawuuits against mayor, attorney

The two $1 million law suits against a Romulus elected official and the city's attorney pressed by another elected official for "slander and defamation of character" have been dismissed.

Wayne County Circuit Court Judge Thomas J. Foley has ordered dismissal of suits pressed by Councilman James C. Stewart against Mayor Terry L. Troutt and William S. Munger "with prejudice" after some deliberation on the matter.

Judge Foley issued the order following a request from attorneys for Troutt and Munger that an accelerated judgment be issued on Stewart's contention that both the attorney and the mayor slandered the councilman in revealing that he hadn't paid taxes on a commercial building he owns since construction was begun in 1971.

City records and county records showed that no taxes had been paid on the building, which was completed in 1973, and indicated that the building hadn't been entered on the city's tax rolls from the time the initial building permit was taken out in 1971.

The city's assessor, Harold Reiner, had termed the problem a "clerical error" which resulted in the councilman not being billed for taxes.

Both Troutt and Munger indicated they would be attempting to bill Stewart for the back taxes on the building, after Munger found a state law which stipulated that taxes on property could be requested for up to a year after the date they were due.

Stewart contended in his law suit that Munger and Troutt alleged wrongdoing on his part in not paying the taxes, but he blames the city administration — headed by Troutt — for neglecting to police tax rolls adequately.

Despite a criminal investigation into the matter, no charges were issued against Stewart or any of the appointed city officials involved in the matter for the oversight.

The order dismissing charges against Munger was issued Aug. 13, and Judge Foley recommended that a similar order be entered in Troutt's behalf Aug. 27.

Sheriff searches for murder clues

Detectives from the Wayne County Sheriff's Department Road Patrol are searching for clues in the strangulation death of a Taylor man whose body was dumped in a Romulus field.

Persons with information on the whereabouts of Edwin Carlton, 20, between 10:30 p.m. Sept. 3 and 3 a.m. Sept. 4 are asked to contact Det. Dale Orth of the Road Patrol at 721-2222, field near Wick Road and the C and O Railroad tracks, just east of Romulus Elementary School at approximately 6:30 p.m. Sept. 4.

He was last seen at 10:30 p.m. the previous evening by a friend as he left on his 1-mile drive back to his Taylor home.

Another man found throwing the dead man's checkbook into a stream east of Middle Belt between Beverly and Ecorse roads in Romulus had been held for questioning concerning the death, but was released after passing a polygraph test.

The man had told the Road Patrol that he had found the checkbook lying at the side of the road on Ecorse between Inkster and Middle Belt roads.

According to Det. Orth, the sheriff's officers believe the dead man was murdered in a parking lot at Beech Daly and Ecorse roads in Taylor being taken to the Romulus site. He was found more than 600 feet from the nearest home in Romulus.

His abandoned car was found in the parking lot, approximately three quarters of a mile from his girlfriend's home.

"STEAM" CLEAN YOUR CARPETS... THE PROFESSIONAL WAY.

Rent the fantastic new Up & Out Hydro-Mist Machine for superior carpet cleaning. Loosens and removes dirt, previous shampoo residue, and up to 90% of the moisture in just one step. Lightweight machine and pop-up handle makes this Model 625 so easy to operate. Save money... get results just like a professional!

BASIS

EXTRACTION METHOD RESTORES CARPET PILE AND REDUCES DRYING TIME

There are no brushes or beaters to wear and tear carpet pile. Instead, cleaning solution is pumped through pressure nozzles deep down into the carpet to dislodge embedded dirt, soil and old shampoo residue. A powerful vacuum simultaneously extracts the moisture and dirt as the cleaning wand is gently pulled over carpet.

WHAT IT DOES: ELIMINATES SOIL AND SHAMPOO BUILD-UP AND REDUCES SUB SURFACE WEAR.

The powerful penetration and extraction action of hot water extraction cleaning helps restore carpet pile. Embedding soil particles are forced into suspension, then extracted from the full depth of the carpet. Old shampoo build-up is also dissolved and removed, eliminating a major cause of carpet pile distortion and fiber wear. Carpet luster is restored and carpet life extended. Excessive soaking is eliminated, which reduces the danger of carpet shrinkage.

RESULT:

A professionally cleaned carpet with restored pile, minimum drying time and sub-soil removed for less wear and longer carpet life.

Restore your carpet without damaging your pocket book. Rent a professional, easy to use power mist soil extraction machine from

Deana's name missing

To the editor: I received my issue of the paper by mail and I was pleased to note the article about the students that are going to college. The item that bothered me is the one about Western Michigan University. I don't know who supplied the information, but you noted Kathy Bassett and Jim Schweigert were invited to marching band for four days prior to the start of school. My daughter, Deana Halcomb, also attended that session. She also is a 1975 Belleville graduate and auditioned for the clarinet section and made second chair. This is very good for a freshman. She has just returned from an European concert tour with Musical Youth International during which time they visited Holland, Denmark, Germany, Italy, France and Austria playing at least one concert each day and sometimes more. They played at Givoli Gardens, a castle in Germany and several cathedrals. The Musical Youth International band and chorus were the featured guests at a music festival in Germany in which 10 bands from European countries participated. They finished the 1975 tour with a concert at the University of Michigan's Hill Auditorium. She has had a full summer and I feel she also should have recognition for her fine work. Perhaps you would find a place to do an article on this. Mrs. Marvin Halcomb of Belleville

Dear Mrs. Halcomb: There's no need for us to do an article because in this letter you have done a nice job of it yourself. You have every reason to be proud of your daughter. The information used in the original story came from Western Michigan University. Apparently there must have been some mixup at the school and we were provided only with the other two names. Thanks for calling our attention to it, your daughter does deserve credit and a little space in her hometown weekly listing her accomplishments. Lucy Wiesend, editor

Folks missed

To the editor: We are writing you to see if you could please print a letter for the Sumpter senior citizens in The Enterprise-Roman. The situation that we are in is our upholstery teacher is in the hospital and most of the seniors have no transportation to see him nor his address. He is our police commissioner, Noah Folks. The senior citizens would like to show their concern, but have no way of doing it.

If you could please help us, we would appreciate it greatly. Senior citizens from Sumpter Township

To our teacher: The Sumpter senior citizens upholstery class extends best wishes and speedy recovery to you. We all miss you in more ways than one. But what we really want to know is: When are you coming back to class?!! Sumpter seniors

Committee, area miss him

To the editor: Would you please publish this open letter to our community.

We are writing about a gentleman, Harry Hornkohl, a fellow Bicentennial member. He passed away on Sept. 1. Harry was a senior citizen, a family man and a friend who cared very much about the other person. As a volunteer in our group, he gave of his ideas, and did what was asked. You could count on Harry and his faithful wife, Kitty, to attend any sessions or meetings and events that we planned.

Although his age qualified him for senior citizenship, he was younger at heart than most of us. No matter how tired he was, his smile was encouraging and his energy endless. How many times we heard him go up to a stranger and say: "Hi, I'm Harry Hornkohl, this is my wife, Kitty — we're Bicentennial members from Van Buren Township, would you like to join us."

We wanted you to know about this man, who was supervisor of the Willow Run Bomber Plant at one time, ran a day care center with his wife before others saw the need, ran for public office several times ... He cared ... He was an active member of the senior citizens, the Van Buren Township Bicentennial, and many of our community projects.

If you didn't know Harry Hornkohl personally, you now know about him, and know why we will miss and honor this man of our time.

Belleville Lake apathy?

To the editor: In view of the socio-economic problems facing each of us during the last few years, it is very difficult to lend much concern to the city's involvement in the area of sports fishing.

However, the recent rebirth of Belleville Lake, as well as the introduction of chinook and coho salmon on the Lower Huron water system affords tremendous opportunity, not only to the sports fisherman, but also to the local business economy. It is common knowledge that previously ignored cities such as Manistee, Ludington, Frankfort and Oscoda, have become tourist meccas. The spontaneous attraction was due in whole to the advent of the fantastic sports fishing offered in those areas.

It is discouraging to view the apathy which has been demonstrated by the township and the city concerning the development of this resource (Belleville Lake). The area directly below the old Edison power dam has been a consistent attraction to local fishermen, in spite of the access difficult.

The majority of the north shore is fenced off, denying access. The south shore is accessible, but the high sea wall denies any chance of landing sizable fish, such as the salmon.

It appears that Van Buren Township has been a deterrent to the completion of the facility on the east shore of Belleville Lake. I am aware of the cost outlay involved, but would like to see a more constructive, open-minded deliberation by the township and the waterways authority.

The area only can benefit from its full cooperation in developing the present and potential resources of its waters.

I sincerely hope that this letter is accepted and considered in the manner on which it was intended. That is: The concern for the local and visiting fisherman shall be a mutual interest of the city and township, thus affording both groups beneficial returns.

Davis is thoughtful

By LUCY WIESEND
Enterprise-Roman Editor

The City of Romulus has at least one very thoughtful gentleman. He's Ernest U. Davis of Ecorse Road who spends lots of time reading and tries to stop by The Enterprise-Roman office at least once every few months with some interesting articles for me to read.

"I used to bring in stuff to the other editor — Mitch Kehetian," Mr. Davis first said when he came in to meet me many months back. "I have time to read and know how busy editors are. Would you like me to continue to bring in different reading material I think you may be interested in?"

My answer? Naturally — a resounding yes.

Editors must love reading, or why else would they be in this business? And as Mr. Davis often has pointed out, with the amount of reading an editor must do, he — or in this case she — just doesn't have time to read all the good publications that are circulated now.

Mr. Davis' most recent visit provided me with a lot of interesting reading, which I may not have gotten to myself.

Among the number of newspapers and magazines he brought in was a copy of the July-August issue of the Columbia Journalism Review, the Aug-16 issue of "The Nation," and a number of issues of the New York Review of Books.

He pointed out article on tough new laws which should improve post-Watergate political ethics; on world economy and the climb back from negative growth; the growth of unionism among low-paid workers, and politics on a national level.

It's nice to have a person around like Mr. Davis who would bother to take his time to bring me articles he feels I would be interested in. You meet lots of different people in the newspaper business — often times people who are cultivating your friendship because they can gain something from it.

But not Mr. Davis. Not, at least, when it comes to his regular visits with literature. He's done it for years for other editors of The Enterprise-Roman. And I'm glad he's doing it for me too.

Here's a public thank you to a very thoughtful man.

As we see it

Crime solution lags

The crime rate continues to escalate year after year in the United States while authorities vainly grope for a solution to the problem.

In recent times their search has taken a new turn — they are giving more and more attention to the impact that crime is having on the well-being of law-abiding, respectable citizens.

For example, attorneys, police and others are offering solicitous suggestions on how potential victims of crime can make their homes more impregnable. A great deal more attention is being given to compensation for citizens who are hurt by thugs.

And various efforts are being made to make citizens' encounters with police, lawyers and the courts less expensive and traumatic.

All of this is perhaps to the good, but it is occurring even as society in general is making things easier for the criminal.

We cannot recall, for example, that any incorrigible murderer was worried by the death penalty recently. There are some 1,000 fewer persons in the nations' prisons today than there were in 1962 although the population has increased about 27 million since then — and the crime rate has more than doubled.

And we have but to look at the explosion of pornography and drugs to realize that the staggering crime rate would be even higher if we were not slowly redefining what constitutes a crime.

Many solutions to the problem have been offered. Some suggest that we reverse the permissive trend of recent years. Others advocate more energetic efforts to reduce the economic disparity among Americans — to eliminate the despair and envy that exists among the poor.

Still others assert that the legislators and law authorities have not even begun to address the problems caused by the misuse of alcohol and drugs.

Finally, there is considerable validity to the view that the central cause of our crime problem is the lack of motivation in the United States.

For at least a quarter of a century the people of the United States have not agreed upon definable national goals nor had a clear sense of purpose about what they want their nation to be.

Each of these solutions has some merit, most undoubtedly also have some drawbacks.

We believe that constructive steps toward a solution of crime problems in the United States will come when we tackle these problems instead of anesthetizing citizens by making it easier for them to be victims.

Progress in any one of the areas — any progress — soon would be felt throughout the nation.

The Enterprise-Roman is committed to bringing the Bicentennial closer to our readers. And as part of that effort, a series, "The Michigan Big Story," will be published weekly. The 76-part series includes topics which contributed to the shaping and direction of the State of Michigan. The impact which this series is certain to have will provide a legacy for future generations of readers as they look back on what we did to celebrate the Bicentennial in Michigan, according to the Michigan American Revolution Bicentennial Commission. The series is being prepared by the commission.

DETROIT (July 26, 1943) — Thirty-four people are dead and property damages is running into the hundreds of thousands of dollars in the wake of one of the bloodiest race riots in the country, which occurred here in Detroit.

Exactly how the disturbance began is unclear. But it appears that it began at the Belle Isle Bridge on Sunday where an estimated 100,000 persons had gathered to escape the heat of the inner-city.

For three days Detroit was an armed camp with blacks and whites fighting each other in the streets of the Motor City.

The Detroit City Police were unable to control the unrest and some say they fueled the situation. After three days of outbursts martial law was declared and federal troops brought the situation under control in 30 minutes without firing a shot.

The statistics and the destruction add up to 34 people dead, 25 Negroes and nine whites, countless injuries and untold property damage.

Wayne County Prosecutor William Dowling said that "...the NAACP and the Negro press were to blame for the riot. They have been fomenting trouble with their crusades in the Negro neighborhoods from the start. If you want to do something constructive in this situation, you might try to control the Negro press."

Dr. James J. McClendon, Negro physician and president of the Detroit Chapter of the NAACP, disagreed.

"As for propaganda and the NAACP, and the local Negro press... when did it become a crime to ask that all citizens be treated fairly in a democracy? When did it become a crime to ask that loyal colored Americans be given jobs commensurate with their skills and training?" he asked.

"We are fighting a war against race hatred, subjugation and domination," he said. "Surely all Americans ought to be willing to rid our own country of these evils. If that is propaganda, we are forced to plead guilty."

SEMCOG to plot water management plan

The water quality management plan for Southeast Michigan, which will undergo development by the Southeast Michigan Council of Governments (SEMCOG) over the next two years, will be what the name implies, a management plan.

Not only will the plan identify and suggest technical solutions to the region's point and non-point sources of pollution, but it also will propose a management system to insure the implementation and continuing maintenance of clean water standards throughout the region.

"Continuing management of the region's water quality is essential," said SEMCOG Chairman Conrad L. Mallett, Wayne County commissioner. "Water is so important to our major activities of industry, tourism and recreation and agriculture."

SEMCOG's proposed water quality management study design, which forms the framework for work to be completed over the planning period, gives a clue to the range of issues to be addressed by the plan in its nine major work elements:

- Project review and management;
- Public participation;
- Land use, economic and population analysis;
- Management planning;
- Water quality analysis and prediction;
- Continuous and intermittent point source planning;
- Non-point source planning;
- Evaluation of technical and management sub-plans;
- Preparation of the complete 208 Plan;

The plan will identify all treatment works needed to maintain acceptable water quality over a 20-year period. The list will be revised annually through the SEMCOG committee structure to reflect the changing environment of the region.

In addition, it will establish priorities for building or modifying treatment plants and will establish time schedules to put the priorities into effect.

The plan also will identify mechanisms to coordinate all waste treatment planning activities within the planning area.

These mechanisms will regulate the location, modification or construction of all facilities within the planning area. They also will insure that industrial wastes are pretreated properly to remove incompatible or toxic substances before they are discharged into a municipal treatment system.

The plan will define and recommend means of dealing with nonpoint sources of pollution, which relate to agriculture, forestry, mining and construction activity, as well as salt water intrusion into ground water supplies. It also will include data on financing arrangements, time requirements, the anticipated cost of implementing the plan and its probable economic, social and environmental effects on the planning area, and will name methods to dispose of the residue and treated waste water that remain after treatment.

Irish Hills: Fall colors at their very best

Long recognized for its tourist attractions, the rolling Irish Hills in Lenawee County and southern Jackson County also is one of the state's best areas to view fall color.

"By mid-October or later, nature will transform the terrain into a patchwork quilt of brilliant reds, oranges and yellows, a perfect setting for a ramble on country backroads," said Joseph Ratke, Automobile Club of Michigan touring manager.

The Irish Hills covers an area of about six square miles, with Clinton generally regarded as the eastern gateway, US-127 as the western boundary, Brooklyn on the north and Onsted on the south. Cambridge Junction is the hub.

At the eastern edge of the Irish Hills, Clinton and Saline are among the area communities well worth a visit to view examples of 19th Century architecture. Saline was settled in 1824, Clinton in 1838.

The Irish Hills was named by The Rev. William Lyster because the gentle slopes and sparkling lakes reminded him of his native land.

The area was settled in the 1830s by families who had left "the Auld Sod" of Ireland because of recurrent famines from potato crop failures.

Tourist attractions abound in the Irish Hills, and most are located on the stretch of US-12 between Clinton and Cambridge Junction. Generally, they are open only on weekends after Labor Day.

Standing serenely amidst the US-12 hoopla is St. Joseph's Wayside Church, an enlargement of a stone chapel built by Irish settlers in 1854. In the old churchyard is an outdoor reproduction of the Stations of the Cross with a life-sized Crucifixion group. Graves of Irish pioneers are in the churchyard. The Catholic shrine is open daily.

For a spectacular view of the Irish Hills, especially during the color season, visitors should climb one of the twin observation towers, a longtime hills trademark. There are 52 lakes in the hills, and many are visible from the 64-foot towers.

Three oldtime inns are within a 5-mile radius in the hills. Bauer Manor, a 1-time stagecoach stop built in 1834, is a mile east of Hayes State Park on US-12. It's still a restaurant.

Springville Inn, six miles west of Tipton on M-50, dates back to about 1840 and was so named because of the many flowing wells there. It now is a private residence.

Four miles away at Cambridge Junction is famous Walker Tavern, a national historic site built in 1832. It is closed for restoration, but an adjoining barn displays stagecoaches and other memorabilia from the Walker Tavern era and there is an interpretation center. There is no admission charge and visitors can picnic in this state-owned park.

One outstanding attraction not along US-12 is Hidden Lake Gardens, south of Hayes State Park on Pentecost Highway. Maintained by Michigan State University, the 347-acre area offers a good look at Michigan flora — including a greenhouse and lotus pool — and a carefully preserved natural landscape. Open daily, visitors are charged 50 cents a car.

To trim deficit

County imposes restrictions on hiring

In an effort to lessen a threatened $7 to $10 million budget deficit, the Wayne County Board of Commissioners has ordered new spending restrictions and imposed an immediate moratorium on hiring except at the County General Hospital.

The budget threat exists because the current economic slump has reduced revenues for the county, and because funds, previously expected from the State and the City of Detroit, now seem unlikely this year, according to the County Board of Auditors and the commissioners' fiscal advisor, Edward E. Bobowski.

The 3-member Board of Auditors has predicted that the funds previously expected from Detroit and the state would reduce the projected deficit to only $1.2 million, but both Bobowski and auditor vice-chairman Leonard D. Proctor have expressed faint hopes for money from those two sources.

In the job moratorium, declared Aug. 21, the commissioners ordered a halt on filling any jobs that become vacant except those "deemed absolutely essential and critical to operation of Wayne County government."

Although a requirement for special permission from a Committee to Fill Vacant Positions has been in effect for the past two years, this action tightened the criteria even further.

The hospital was exempted because of concern that vacant jobs could affect the quality of health care and to assure staff requirements necessary to preserve the hospital's accreditation.

The commissioners also transferred $3.5 million from the capital improvement fund to meet operating expenses, with a stipulation that the money is considered a "loan" that will be returned to the improvement fund when the fiscal situation improves.

In another money-saving measure, the commissioners approved a proposal requiring board committees to recommend a source of funding from within the present budget when asking for new programs or new spending.

The idea, proposed by Commissioner Tom F. Taylor (D-Westland) was offered to force committees to consider the overall budget picture, rather than just a narrow special-interest outlook, he said.

At the same time, the commissioners rejected a proposal for the vacant positions committee to also decide on new spending priorities, including grant programs, in addition to its determinations on hiring.

The proposal tentatively was approved last week by the Ways and Means Committee, subject to its agreement with recommendations of the committee.

Romulus officials report more than $1.75 million in construction during the past four months.

Building Department Director Howard Lethemon reports issuing 214 building permits during the May-August period.

May was the best month during the 4-month period with 50 permits issued for $747,000 in new construction.

Included in the totals were three permits for $617,000 worth of industrial construction.

During the month, a permit was issued for $596,000 in construction for the Detroit Diesel Corp. and a total of $75,000 for two sections of a Lo-Mack Co. warehouse.

June's totals included two permits for $156,000 in industrial construction.

Included in those totals was a $150,000 permit for an addition to a building south of Wick between Middle Belt and Harrison and a $6,000 industrial permit for a building between Inkster and Harrison on Wick road.

July showed the issuance of one industrial building permit for $48,000 in improvements for an office and storage building on the north side of Eureka between Middlebelt and Harrison roads.

A total of 179 permits was issued for residential construction with an estimated value of $780,000 during the 4-month period.

Included in the totals were 24 demolitions and nine new houses.

The remaining permits were issued for additions and alterations.

The total cost of the new residential building construction is $272,000.

Thank You

...FELLOW ROMULUS CITIZENS

Thanks to the many friends who with their enthusiasm, services, donations and votes, supported my campaign for Mayor of Romulus.

Those who made financial contributions, those who helped with time and service, those who gave good-will and encouragement, all were basic to the "A NEEDED CHANGE" STEWART FOR MAYOR campaign and organization.

JAMES C. STEWART

I know many of those who helped in these vital ways, and hope to be able to thank them personally. Others are unknown to me by name, but I am most appreciative for what they have done.

In this group I include the people who voted for me. Your faith is heart-warming and inspiring. I am most grateful to you.

I will continue to operate as an independent thinker. I will inform the electorate as to my standards and beliefs so that when they mark their ballots on November 4, 1975, in the General Election, they will know what they can expect of me as Mayor of Romulus.

Please let us not forget to encourage others to express their opinions and needs as this is where Romulus will show progress. Those willing to work to "make it happen" can make it happen.

POSITIVE EFFORTS WILL DIRECTLY BENEFIT ALL OF US!

Thank you, one and all.

ALL SET TO DELIVER — Seasoned quarterback Michael Morrison (12) is one reason why Romulus hopes to improve upon last year's 2-7 record. In his fourth year of varsity competition, the multi-talented Morrison will again guide the Eagles who are without league affiliation. That's junior Dave Johnson ready to center. Romulus will open the 1975 campaign Saturday afternoon at home to Royal Oak Shrine. — The Enterprise-Roman photo.

Prep campaign begins Friday

2 new coaches make grid debuts

By TOM MOORADIAN
Sports Editor

Ready or not, the 1975 high school football season will get underway Friday night.

Belleville and New Boston Huron high schools will greet the new season with new coaches while Romulus has at its helm a sophomore mentor.

At Belleville, Pat Stokes takes over from Keith Emerson. And Stokes, who served as an assistant coach, feels his Tigers are ready. He and his chargers will get their first taste of fire from a veteran-stocked Wayne Memorial contingent that will be out to avenge a 20-19 setback last year.

"We're ready," Stokes said. "Wayne has an excellent ball club but it'll know it was in a football game."

Stokes said he was pleased with the Tiger scrimmage last week against Bishop Borgess, Redford St. Mary and Taylor Center.

"We looked respectable," he added. "Our offensive line got the job done and defensively we didn't look bad. In general, we executed well and in 40 offensive plays we had only one offsides."

Belleville quarterback Dan Scripser was singled out by the Tiger coach for his stellar performance. "He ran the option well and also found his receivers," Stokes said.

Kevin Barnes apparently has nailed down one of the backfield posts thanks to his excellent showing in the scrimmages while 2-year letter-winner Dan Theodore managed to haul in a couple of good passes.

Sports

Defensive stalwarts included Roy Rutherford, an end and Tony Turrentine, a small but quick middle guard.

"Another thing that pleased me about the scrimmage is that we came away with no serious injuries," Stokes said.

Over at Huron, Tom LaBeau will make his debut Friday at Milan with a team that failed to win a ball game in 1974 and also didn't get on the scoreboard.

LaBeau, the former Monroe Catholic Central coach, views 1975 as a "year of building a football program at Huron."

"We're being realistic," LaBeau said. "We have some people in the skilled positions, but we don't have the depth or the manpower to compete with the established league powers."

"If we could win a couple I would be satisfied."

Romulus also had its share of problems last year and Tom Baldwin, in his second season as the Eagles' head coach, hopes to resolve that in 1975. He'll send his team up against Royal Oak Shrine on Saturday for its first test of the season.

"Shrine has an excellent team and we're going to have to play mistake-free football to even stay on the same field with them," Baldwin stressed. "I feel that we have the players this year to make it a good year."

Swim Club sets tryout

The drive for new swimmers is on for the Belleville Tiger Swim Club.

"We're looking for swimmers - boys and girls - who will compete in AAU age group swim competition," said John Stosick, one of two men responsible for fielding the team. "If there are any new candidates they should attend our tryouts."

Tryouts are set for 5:30 p.m., Monday at Belleville High School's pool.

"The purpose of our club is to teach our members skills which are necessary for swimming and diving competition. We also are an excellent feeder system to the junior high and senior high school swim programs," Stosick added.

Stosick is in his third year as head coach. He presently is the head swim coach at Belleville South Junior High. Last year 11 of the members of the Tiger Swim Club qualified for the AAU state finals. Two emerged as state champs.

Scott Porter also brings an impressive record to the club. He's the former Milan High School swim star, a member of the 1972 Class B state championship team.

Cougars win 2 of 3 from Westland Jets

The Belleville Cougars opened up the Western Suburban Junior Football League by winning two of three games from the Westland Jets.

The Cougars' freshmen unit got things going as it carved out a 19-13 win. Belleville quarterback Sam Villa hooked up with Scott Thompson on a 45-yard scoring pass play to put the local team on the scoreboard.

A Villa to Frank McDaniel completion was good for the extra point, making it a 7-0 ball game.

Westland came back to score with 25 seconds remaining in the quarter but Villa stopped Westland's attempt to tie it up when he picked off the pass for the conversion.

Jim Daniels gave the Cougars some breathing room when he snared a Westland aerial and went into the end zone to score.

Belleville turned a 13-6 game into a 19-6 margin early in the third period when Villa found Daniels again in the end zone for a 15-yard TD pass.

The Cougars also drew first blood in the junior varsity game but couldn't hang on as they dropped a 13-8 decision. Quarterback Dave LeBlanc tallied on a keeper to put the Cougars ahead, however the Westlanders came back with two TD's to hand the Cougars their first setback.

With less than a minute remaining, Belleville cashed in a safety for its final two points.

Defense was the name of the game between the two varsity units and Belleville won it 6-0. Both teams committed three fumbles that erased scoring threats.

Belleville got on the scoreboard in the third quarter when Tim Ralls handed off to Mark Daroci who raced 15-yards for a touchdown.

Westland came within striking range late in the fourth period but it fumbled and Dave Davenport recovered for Belleville, ending the threat.

"I also would like to thank all the people who made our annual kickoff dance last Saturday a huge success," said Brian Fry, Cougar president.

Romulus gals' softball leader is undefeated

Swamping SWAT, Chocolate City remained undefeated in the Romulus Women's Softball League. And the league-leaders are two wins away from a perfect West Division season.

Led by Rhonda Summers, Brenda Allen and PaPooe Warren who each had five hits, the undefeated league-leaders destroyed SWAT 38-6 last week.

Ann Bray, Charlene Colege and Linda Weber each accounted for three hits in a losing effort.

The 2001 edged the 69ers 9-4 as Anne Szyndlar rapped four hits including a triple and a pair of doubles. Teammates Patty McLean and Cindy Crawford each had two hits.

The losers received three hits apiece from Cheryl Elliott, Shelly Much and Carol Casmer.

In other league action, the Rookies held on to nip the SWAT 6-5 as Wendy Woodley belted a homer with one aboard. Sally Carroll chalked up four hits and Pat Hamm and Carol Kruath each had two.

Rhonda Christopher drilled a home run for the losers. Teammates Jackie Boyd, Charlene Cole and Shirley Henry chipped in two SWAT hits each.

Paced by Martha Bowen and Liz Stanley's two RBI hits, the Denim Dolls turned back a determined New Streakers 4-3. Connie Cox played an excellent defensive game.

Ann Philips turned in an unassisted double play while Mary Karbowski connected for two doubles for the losers. Dawn Sliva and Bes Lankford each had two singles.

The Denim Dolls didn't have to sweat for their next victory as they were awarded a victory on a forfeit when the Foul Balls failed to field enough players.

Chocolate City unleashed its power as it buried Kerrettes 24-0 in an earlier game. Pam Morrison laced six hits for the winners and teammates Rhonda Peters swatted four. Theresa Gibson and Brenda Allen came through with three and two hits, respectively.

Wendy Woodley had a home run for the Rookies while teammates Pat Hamm and Diane Ritthaler each laced three.

The Bleepers found the going rough against 2001 and bowed 9-5. Linda Fee, Kathy Claxton, Sharon Howie, Cindy Crawford and Diane Nairemore all had three hits for the winners.

The Foul Balls also didn't have to worry when their paths crossed with the Hustlers who didn't have enough players to field a complete team.

Tarantulas won an exciting 12-7 decision over the Euphoria as Sue Kramer hammered a homer for the winners. Mary Dziedzic and Vickie Brainerd each had three hits for the Tarantulas.

The Tarantulas then went on to beat the 69ers 13-1. Vickie and Marianne Brainerd each homered while Cindy Kramer and Dianne Knight came up with three hits for the winners.

The Kerrettes got back on the winning track at the expense of the New Streakers, 15-6. Bess Lankford, Dawn Silva and Mary Karbowski each doubled for the winners.

The Airline Bombers were on target, knocking out the Bullshirts 14-7. Patty Sypula, Marilyn Seppin, Debbie Sanders and Janie Slater combined for seven home runs in one inning for the Bombers.

The Seekers should have quit early in their match against the Electric Warriors who shocked their rivals 29-2. Tina Swazey, Margaret Ayers and Alice Verduco each had five hits while Debbie Owens connected for four for the Warriors.

In a well-played contest, Kid Power found its way into the victory column at the expense of the Whiz Kids 8-6. Pricilla Gray stroked the only home run of the game and Vicky Gray added three hits for the winners.

Kel-Joys had no problems with Our Gang who succumbed 18-6. Brenda Sparkman, Cindy Nixon and Judy Brent led the winner's attack with three hits.

Linda Goodman, Lynn Ney and Alison Ziem-bowicz had an excellent day at the plate for the losers. Each checked in with four hits.

The Odd Squad trounced the Shakers 22-5. Debbie Wilcox's homer highlighted the winner's attack. Jolynn Debuyschere and Pat Dick also belted run-scoring hits.

Cindy Groh's triple and Dorothy Parrish's double were the tops for the losers.

SECOND LINE OF DEFENSE — Romulus football rivals will have to get past Andy Argovan (66), Jim Parker (48) and Mike Ellis (33) if they hope to pick up any yardage against the rugged linebackers. Romulus, an independent, has a 9-game schedule loaded with area powers. They'll try to even up the score with a few teams that eked out victories last year. Coach Tom Baldwin's Eagles posted a 2-7 record in 1974 and the second year mentor looks for improvement this season. — The Enterprise-Roman photo

Ted's philosophies worth a few seconds

By LEE SMITH
Suburban Living Editor

Not too many people are aware that we share the southern "wing" of the old Van Buren Township Hall with the Belleville Area Chamber of Commerce. And having its director, Ted Kuckelman, around is an experience in itself.

Ted is a walking (and talking) example of humanity. At 87, he still is holding down the fort for and espousing the good of the community.

He arrives at the office each day from the Van Buren Convalescent Home (where he is a resident) and spends about five hours overseeing the operations of the chamber.

We in the Enterprise-Roman offices are reminded daily that life is worth living just by listening to Ted's philosophies, reading the bits of humor which he discovers and shares with us and paying attention to what bit of wisdom just might be on or under the glass on his desk.

Diane, our secretary, drew my attention to the following bit of lore (which lies under one corner) and we're sure it will make you think a bit...

"If you had a bank that credited your account each morning with $86,400, which carried over no balance from day to day, allowed you to keep no cash in your account and every evening cancelled out whatever part of that amount you failed to use during the day, what would you do? Draw out every cent, of course!

Well, you DO have such a bank and its name is "time." Every morning, it credits you with 86,400 seconds. Every night it rules as lost whatever you have failed to invest to good purpose.

There is no going back, no borrowing from yesterday or drawing against tomorrow. So, invest your seconds so that they will give the utmost in health, happiness and success."

It's worth a few seconds just to think about it, don't you agree? It's just one of Ted's many outlooks on a life long lived.

Friends surprise Mary

Mary Doran, who is always doing such nice things for people, had the tables turned on her last Thursday. For a change, SHE was the gal on the receiving end of party plans.

On the pretext of going shopping for new draperies for the Sunday school room at Bethany Baptist Church, the minister's wife, Vesta Losen, called on Mary for help with the job. Enroute, though, they had to make a stop at Joanne Carnahan's home on Denton Road to look at some swatches of material she had.

So it was with some disbelief that Mary finally realized that the notes of "Happy Birthday" she was hearing were somehow replacing the shopping session.

It was after choir practice and coffee at Flagg's the previous night that Vesta, Joanne and a few others decided it was time to pay Mary back. The next day being her natal date, they agreed, would be the ideal opportunity.

Others sharing a special luncheon and cake with the honoree were Dorothy Forman, Della (Grandma) Sutherland, Bonnie Stoelton, Judy Klein and Vivian Hook.

Former resident weds

The daughter of former Belleville residents, Lauren and Lois Waldecker, was married recently at Holy Trinity Church in Comstock Park, Mich. Melaney Ann Waldecker is now Mrs. Albert Dunneback. The newlyweds were feted after their marriage at the Knights of Columbus Hall in Conklin.

The Waldeckers, who now reside in Grand Rapids, welcomed from Belleville Ray and Leona Van Buhler, their son Gary and his date, Cheryl Cilia, and two of their daughters, Janet and Joan; Bob and Mildred Baker and Ray and Virginia Memering with their son, Girard, and daughters, Paula and Theresa.

Celebration in triplicate

The party last Friday evening at the Willie Best home in Romulus marked three events — the 60th birthday of his mother, Mrs. Flora Best; the 16th birthday of the Best's daughter, Sherill, and the return home of their son, Willie Jr. from Houston, Texas.

Relatives arrived for the occasion from Inkster, Ypsilanti, Detroit and Wyandotte, the women each bringing a dish to pass. Some 40 persons were counted when the guest book was checked.

The senior Mrs. Best was presented with a rocking chair which had been made at Berea College in Kentucky. One of her grandsons, Hubert White, had helped make the chair which was purchased by the family for the occasion.

Clark-Ritchie exchange vows

The Nichols Arboretum in Ann Arbor was chosen as the site for the ceremony which united Patricia Ann Ritchie of Ypsilanti and Michael Dean Clark of E.

MR. AND MRS. MICHAEL D. CLARK

Lansing in holy matrimony.

The young couple exchanged double ring vows before The Rev. Lawrence Woodruff of the First United Presbyterian Church of Ypsilanti. For the 3 p.m. wedding Aug. 9, Ted Kallman performed as guitarist and soloist.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. B. W. Ritchie of 2535 Grove Road, Ypsilanti. Her bridegroom is the son of Donna Clark of 208 Vine Street, Bradford, Ohio.

For her wedding day, Patty chose a toe-touching gown of ivory organza with a deep flounce at the hemline. Fashioned with a little fitted bodice, the dress featured a high neckline trimmed with crocheted lace and bishop sleeves which ended in wide satin cuffs with lace trim.

Her silk illusion veil, which drifted to chapel length, was banded in the same lace which covered her crescent headpiece. Completing her bridal finery was a hand bouquet of white roses, fugi mums, baby's breath and springere ferns.

Susan Ritchie traveled from Durham, N.C. to serve as honor maid at her sister's wedding. The bridegroom's two sisters, Debra and Leanna Clark of Bradford, Ohio, were bridesmaids and Susie Cook of Ypsilanti, a friend of the family, was junior attendant.

All four wore frocks of sheer ivory cotton imprinted with an orange and yellow floral design. Styling details included full skirts, V necklines and full, flowing sleeves.

Best man was Charles Edward Shilt of Covington,

Ohio. Groomsmen were Charles Clark of Bradford, Ohio and Mark Hooper of E. Lansing.

Mrs. Ritchie wore for her daughter's wedding a pale yellow polyester jersey formal gown topped with a companion jacket. Mrs. Clark, the bridegroom's mother, donned a maroon and ivory print gown with an ivory lace jacket. Both were presented with corsages of yellow roses and carnations.

Some 100 relatives and friends attended the reception which followed at the UAW Hall on Chidester Street, Ypsilanti.

The newlyweds spent a 2-week honeymoon in the vicinity of Denver, Colo. and are now making their home at 787 Burcham, Apt. 2, E. Lansing.

The new Mrs. Clark graduated in June from Michigan State University (MSU) where she earned a bachelor of science degree in anthropology. She is a 1971 alumna of Belleville High School. Her husband attended MSU for 2 years and now plans to attend the University of Michigan. He currently is employed at Meijers warehouse in Lansing.

The rehearsal dinner was held at the home of the bride's parents in Ypsilanti.

Love dining out? New restaurant guide's available

"Deatroit" is Detroit's first definitive restaurant guide, a delightful tour of the motor Capital's best restaurants.

From downtown to the far suburbs, plain cooking to exotic ethnic dishes, unpretentious neighborhood cafes to glamorous and elegant bistros, "Deatroit" details the cuisine and style of each restaurant as well as such pertinent data as hours, price range and credit card acceptance.

Author Molly Abraham, the respected restaurant critic of The Detroit News for more than nine years, has based "Deatroit" upon research done for her popular weekly column, "Out to Dinner," and included only those eating places which merit good, very good and excellent ratings.

"Deatroit" is written for native and tourist alike; for diners conservative and adventurous, thrifty or extravagant, but for everyone who believes a visit to a restaurant should be a joyful occasion.

The book will be available in mid-September at bookstores and wherever fine paperbacks are sold in the metropolitan Detroit area.

Quotes worth quoting

"How often grown sons and daughters, after marriage and after some years spent in caring for their children, will say, 'I never knew before how much love my parents put into raising me.' Thanksgiving Day comes late in the year and thanksgiving comes late in life."

Kelsey-Hayes offers training

An opportunity to learn about the different aspects of the business world and its related activities once again is being offered to high school students by the Kelsey-Hayes Co., one of Western Wayne County's largest manufacturing firms.

Selected administrative personnel of the Romulus-based company for more than two score years have been teaching ninth to 12th grade high school students the "fair and honest side" in the initiation and operation of a business. Kelsey-Hayes conducts such cooperative efforts through its long affiliation with the Junior Achievement of Southeastern Michigan Inc. (JA).

The JA organization, encouraged and supported by area businesses, is one of the nation's leading programs devoted to the encouragement of young people in the 14 to 18 age range to learn the art of business operations.

JA's Board of Directors is composed of heads of various businesses, manufacturing firms and other related organizations.

Kelsey-Hayes president W. D. MacDonnel also is a member of the JA Board of Directors.

D. L. Barber, account manager-auto-truck group at Kelsey-Hayes and presently in charge of the firm's JA activities, said the firm already has selected three of its administrative personnel in the areas of business, finance sales and engineering production to assist the company-sponsored JA team this year.

The JA program is a 30-week project, starting in October and running through April.

Barber added that the firm's young business teams have been among JA's award winning teams during the last 10 to 12 years.

He urged parents to get their high school children to become involved in JA.

"It is one of the best methods currently available for showing youngsters what 'honest-to-goodness business relations' are all about," Barber said.

Under the JA program, students are taught how to begin a business. They also are told how to sell stock in the business and the financing and sale of their company's product.

At the end of the JA program, products produced by the JA-sponsored firms are sold and profits, if any, are bonuses for the young business partners and stockholders.

Kelsey-Hayes has assisted between 400 and 500 students in learning all about the "fair side" of business during the firm's affiliation with JA.

JA is headquartered at 14821 Grand River Avenue, Detroit with branches scattered throughout southeastern Michigan. JA's area branch is the Wayne Business Center located at 3139 S. Wayne Road, Wayne.

Further information about participating in JA program can be obtained by calling the Wayne unit at 722-2850.
